We'll get Samantha's edited text into the tool and will let you know when it's been done.

Good Morning Everyone,

I think the language is in good shape and should be posted in the tool as planned. The benefit of doing this now is that as the beta version gets broader exposure people will be able to provide feedback on the content Samantha developed.

Thanks,

Alex

I talked with Mike and he said he's fine with moving forward with this language when you all think it's ready. Just send it along to Andrew Stoeckle (and cc me) with the request.

Good Afternoon Mike/Tim,

May we update the National PFAS Data Explorer with the attached language? We'd like to have the Beta version have this language before we demo or make it available to a broader audience. Please advise.

Thanks,

Alex

Mike – I made those changes, and added the UCMR disclaimer we worked on last week, in the attached. It also includes my edits to other language. There were a few questions/comments I couldn't address myself, like language on what else is being added to the Places of Interest tab. Please take a look!

Hi Sam – this is the opening caveat for the PFAS beta tool as it stands now. I wanted to offer some suggested changes. I'm sure you can probably wordsmith it better than I did. - Mike
